Work Ready Solutions

Being Work Ready requires you to be prepared both personally and professionally. In today's environment, employers require employees with hard skills to 'do the job' but also soft skills that lead to interpersonal effectiveness. Success often depends on the right blend of these skills applied in the right work context.

We have taken our range of standards and developed Work Ready Solutions to prepare students for life in the real world. We understand that success comes when an individual has the right key competencies to be effective in both their personal and work lives. We have established three key areas to become work ready in whatever career an individual decides to pursue.

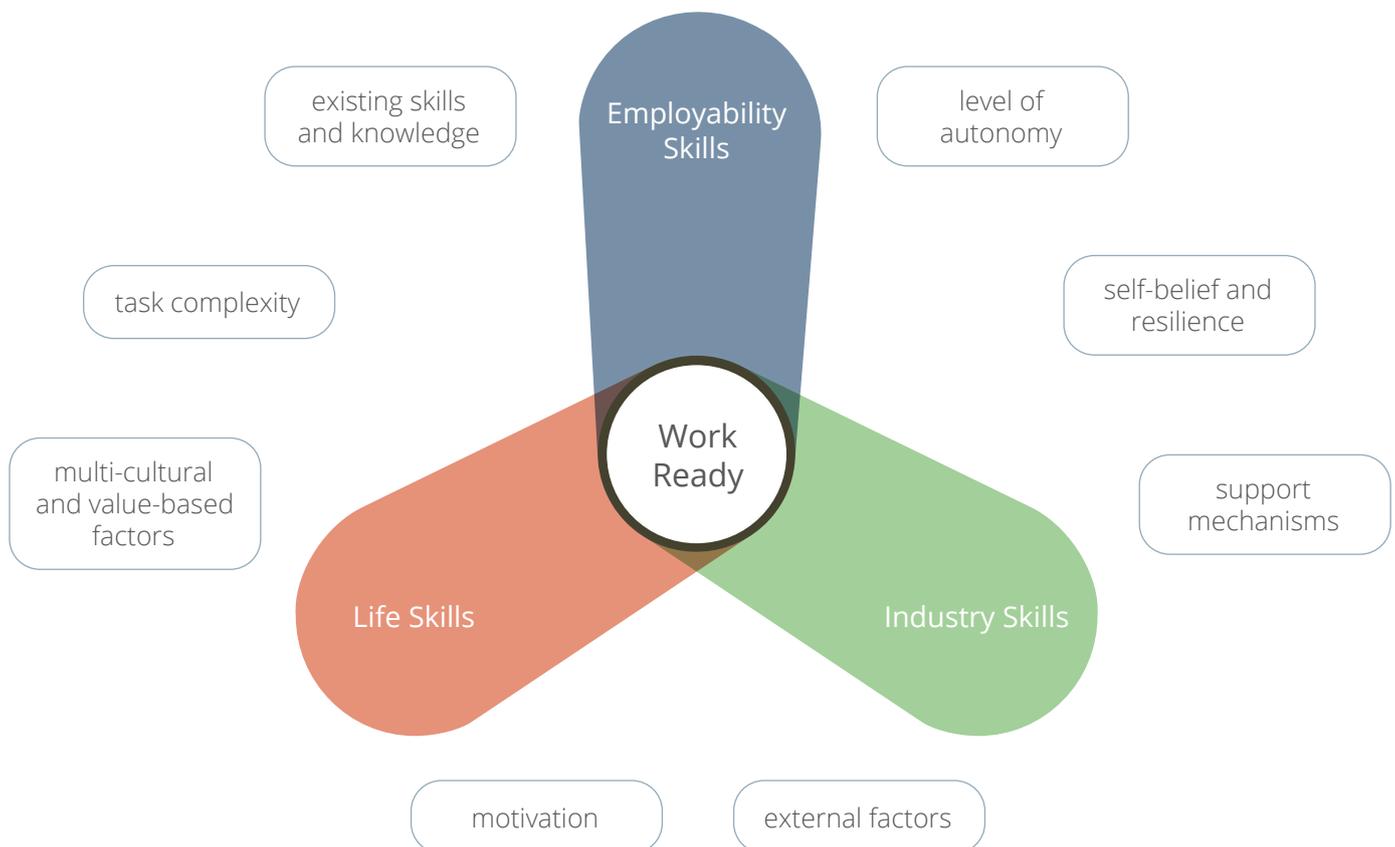

Employability Skills

Life Skills

Industry Skills

Key Competency Development

Research, both in New Zealand and Australia, suggests an optimum mix of both work and interpersonal skills results in key competencies for future success. These competencies exist both individually and in a work context enabling an individual to exhibit enhanced performance over a sustained period. The following diagram shows the relationship of the three major skill areas and the influencing factors that impact on them.

Individual Learning Pathways

Simply pick the standards that best fit the unique needs of the person and create a portfolio of transferable skills that will ensure their future success. By developing the required skills and competencies, an individual can become proficient in today's workforce while still meeting NCEA requirements.

Unit Standard Delivery Packages

Instant offers single Unit Standard Delivery Packages to save you time and money. Each Delivery Package includes*:

Product Quality

The quality of Instant's products and services is something we pride ourselves on. Every resource or service developed is carefully thought through and crafted to provide students with the best chance of success. Our resource developers are experienced writers in their fields of expertise and work hard to develop high quality assessments. The assessments created are not only pragmatic, but also technically competent.

Our product development process requires that the writer's work undergo a number of quality assurance checks and measures to ensure each outcome and grading requirement is covered correctly. Each assessment, where possible, is independently moderated. Also, all our teaching material is rigorously reviewed. This ensures that a complete and accurate learning package is delivered to you.

4252	Targeted CV	2	2

The 'Job Preparation' suite of standards provides an easy step-by-step process for learners to identify work and career options, and the practical steps involved in gaining both work experience and a work position. Learners will cover areas such as finding work, interview skills, and negotiation skills, to ensure they are well-prepared to start out in a new workplace. The focus of these units is giving learners the confidence and skills needed for employment.

Finding Work

Unit #	Title	Level	Credit
1285	Make enquiries and complete practical transactions	1	2
4253	Demonstrate knowledge of job search skills	2	3

Interview Skills

Unit #	Title	Level	Credit

1304	Communicate with people from other cultures (authentic face-face communication required)	3	2

Working towards a Goal

9677	Communicate in a team or group which has an objective	2	3
9681	Contribute within a team or group which has an objective	3	3
11101	Collaborate within a team which has an objective	4	5

We have grouped our standards under seven key soft skills approved by industry and required by employers. These skills increase a person's employability, allowing them to contribute fully to workplace performance. Soft skills are interpersonal skills that indicate a high level of social and emotional intelligence. Unlike hard skills, which describe a person's ability to perform specific tasks, soft skills are transferrable in that they apply across job titles and industries.

Learners who complete these standards will be able to show that they possess some of the soft skills that are valued in the workplace.

Self Management

Unit #	Title	Level	Credit
496	Produce, implement, and reflect on a plan to improve own personal wellbeing	1	3
4249	Describe obligations as an employee	1	3

548	Demonstrate knowledge of the impact of alcohol and other drugs	1	3
525	Recognise sexual harassment and describe ways of responding	2	3
542	Describe discrimination and describe ways of responding	2	3

For learners to be successful when they move into work roles, they need to be able to understand job roles and responsibilities; employee and employer legal rights and responsibilities; and be able to recognise and respond to workplace expectations, policies, and procedures. Underpinning this is the commitment to effective business communication and a commitment to a healthy and safe workplace.

The standards selected here represent a more in-depth understanding of how a workplace functions and strengthening the relationship between employees and employers. Important issues such as sexual harassment, drugs and alcohol, and discrimination are also addressed.

Financial freedom doesn't just happen. It comes with understanding what money is, how it works and more importantly how it can work for you. We have grouped the 24 Financial Capability standards available on the NZQA framework and created nine topics considered essential for managing money effectively. Most topics contain a mix of standards that cover both introductory and advanced learning. Whether it is personal or business finance, these standards will improve learners' financial literacy and give them the confidence to use their money wisely.

Obtaining an acceptable level of literacy and numeracy can greatly improve many factors in the lives of our learners, including improvements to their social lives, education and career prospects.

The ability to read, write, speak and understand information can have a big impact on life and employability.

Literacy is the written and oral language we use in everyday life and work; it includes reading, writing, speaking and listening. Skills in this area are essential for good communication, critical thinking, and problem-solving in the workforce. It includes building the skills to communicate (at work) for speakers of other languages.

Numeracy is the bridge between mathematics and daily life. It includes the knowledge and skills needed to apply mathematics to everyday family and financial matters, learning, work and community tasks, social and leisure activities.

Assessment Conditions

The explanatory notes for each unit standard outline the environment in which the assessment must take place. The table below lists the assessment environment required for each service delivery assessment offered by Instant.

Unit standards	Assessment environment required
11818	Assessment must occur in an actual, real workplace environment, or at least in a simulated workplace environment which uses organisational requirements that are those of an actual, real workplace.
57, 62, 11815	Assessment can occur in a workplace or in a training or educational establishment, provided that workplace conditions are closely simulated, for example, in a model office, salon or workshop.
376, 378, 11816	Assessment can occur in a real or simulated workplace.

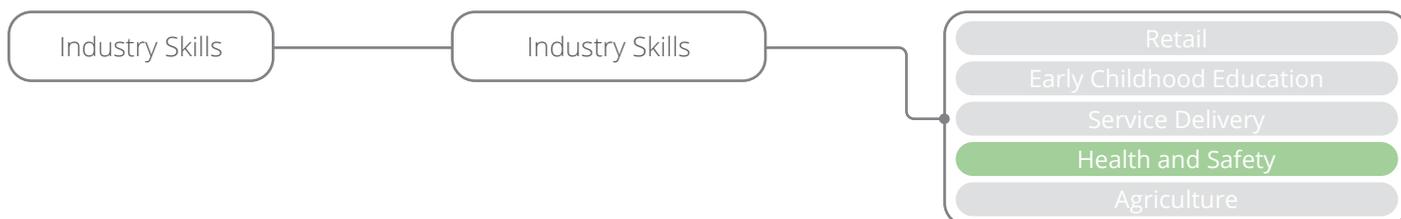

Workplace Simulations

The learner may be able to complete the assessment as part of a work placement at your training or educational establishment, for example by:

- completing a work placement in the main reception or careers centre administration office
- completing a work placement in the cafeteria
- completing a work placement in the library or sports coordination office.

In all these cases, the learner will need to complete the assessment in accordance with workplace requirements.

Candidate's Assessment Guide: The candidate's assessment guide contains a summary of the requirements for the unit, and advice for gathering evidence. For learners who require more guidance, a section is provided that contains key learning points related to the unit.

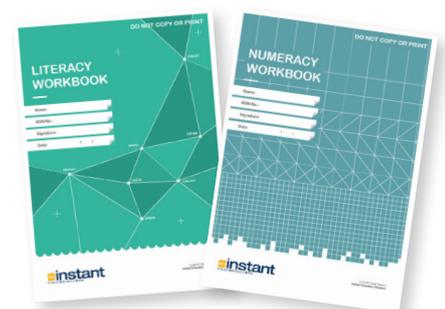

Tutor's Assessment Guide: The tutor's assessment guide provides a simple graphical overview of the steps involved in working with candidates to gather evidence for the unit. There are useful tips for sources of evidence, and a set of 'sample answers' that give an indication of the type of evidence that tutors need to gather.

Required Assessment documentation.

Numeracy and Literacy Workbooks

These workbooks contain learning and exercises designed to provide evidence towards Level 1 NCEA numeracy and literacy credits. The practical based workbooks provide an alternative to more academic-based study.

Literacy Toolkit

The Literacy Toolkit then provides a resource which can support teachers to embed literacy within the learning content of this unit and in context with the qualification. The Toolkit contains 'tools', such as suggested activities and specific examples from the unit standard which can help develop the literacy skills of learners.

The aim of the Toolkit is to provide a starting point for teachers, and teachers may need to alter and/or supplement these activities to accommodate the specific literacy needs of their students in completing the qualification.

*All these units listed allow for A/M/E grading and qualify for NCEA Endorsement.

Personal Financial Management (PFM) is the ideal subject for helping learners understand everyday decisions around saving, spending, and earning money. Our delivery packages have been carefully designed to help learners develop financial literacy, set financial goals, and understand how to achieve these objectives.

AME graded unit standards

New Financial Capability units now have an Achieved, Merit and Excellence criteria for assessments. This allows learners to be rewarded for maximised study and effort. In most cases Merit allows for detailed comparisons, explanations, and analysis. Excellence allows for comprehensive comparisons, explanations and justifications for processes followed. All AME unit standards can be used for endorsement of NCEA Level 1, 2 and 3.

ASSESSMENT SERVICES

No Time to Mark Assessments?

Instant's Assessment Service can save you the time and stress of being buried under paperwork. If you have a large number of unit standard assessments to mark, Instant can help free you up to do what you do best. No costly compliance or accreditation costs. Simply send your assessments to Instant to be assessed for you.

No NZQA Accreditation?

A number of standards are available for assessment by Instant Education Solutions. This is particularly useful for schools that wish to teach certain subject areas but may not have accreditation. Simply send your assessments to be assessed and then register those credits on your students' Records of Learning, using our provider number.

A full list of unit standards that can be assessed by us can be found at www.instant.org.nz/other-services/assessment-service/standards/

How does it work?

When you initially request to use our assessment service, we will send you a 'Memorandum of Understanding' to agree to and sign. Once your students complete their assessments you will send them to our qualified and experienced staff who will mark the assessments and return the work to you (usually within two to three weeks). You will receive a report listing each individual student and their achievement outcome. Your school can register any credits achieved on your students' Records of Learning, using our provider number.

WEBSITE ACCESS
